Indulge guilt-free with our new healthy preserves range by Rosemary Shrager.

In our pursuit of promoting health-conscious food choices, we set out to develop a compelling variety of both sweet and savoury preserves. Our key focus was to ensure these products not only offered significant health benefits, but also retained an enticing flavour profile.

To achieve this, we collaborated with renowned TV chef, Rosemary Shrager. Our joint venture resulted in a unique selection of preserves that cater to the evolving dietary trends of today's consumers.

These preserves are specifically designed for those wishing to limit their sugar consumption. They also serve as a beneficial option for individuals grappling with long-term health challenges.

We understand that these health challenges often necessitate a complete overhaul of one's dietary habits, and finding suitable products that align with these new lifestyle changes can be daunting. Our range of preserves, therefore, aims to bridge this gap by offering healthy, flavourful options that can seamlessly integrate into any diet plan.
